

By March 31, 2015 and on an ongoing basis as necessary thereafter, banks will provide staff who deal directly with individual clients or their attorneys with training to increase their awareness of

1. the bank's policies and procedures related to disclosure of the required information; and
- 2.